BE SURE OF GOOD DUCK SHOOTING

It's the kinds and quantity of foods which grow in those waters that govern the number of Wild Ducks or Wild Geese that will stop there and the length of their visit.

IMPROVE THE SPORT OF FISHING

It's the plant life in those waters which provide for the game fish which live within those waters.

BETTER MUSKRAT TRAPPING

It's the aquatic vegetation which exists in abundance in your marsh that provide the food and housing for greater abundance of muskrats and governs the quality of their fur.

SPRING PLANTING — QUICK RESULTS

Seeds, Roots, Tubers and Plants of the Natural Foods planted this Spring will grow and make food by Fall.

Waters Alone Won't Attract Wild Ducks

You will enjoy good duck hunting this Fall and years to follow. Plant natural foods now. Several kinds will produce a variety of foods, thus entice more wild ducks and they will remain for a longer visit.

A number of these food plants are important to game fish, also muskrats. (See opposite page.)

THESE SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES

A CUSTOMER FROM INDIANA SAYS:

July 18, 1948

Dear Sir:

I have had wonderful results with the Giant Wild Rice Seed. I have noticed muskrats sure like Wild Rice. I planted it on March 25th, and today being July 18th, it is 54 inches high.

I want to thank you, Mr. Coon for those letters and information you have given me. Some of my friends told me it wouldn't grow but I have it to show them in my backyard now. Next Spring I will order some more.

Edward P. Satoski
Route 3, Box 1
LaPorte, Indiana

A COMPLIMENT FROM CALIFORNIA:

April 10, 1946

Dear Sirs:

The bulbs and seeds you shipped to Carlton Wallace at Longbeach have been received and planted by me as per your instructions.

I wish to compliment you people on the condition of the shipment when received, also the generous count.

G. E. Mathews
Santa Ana, California

A GENTLEMAN FROM SPAIN WRITES:

December 4, 1947

Dear Mr. Coon:

I have before me your letter of the 17th of October. I always read your letters with great pleasure.

As regards my pond, there is no doubt that there is a positive increase in our number of birds there. There are a number of reasons why this might have come about, but my own opinion is that in some measure this is due to the new plants which were introduced into the lake.

Yours very truly,
Casimiro Velasco
Gijon, Spain

IT GROWS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE:

August 12, 1948

Dear Mr. Coon:

The Sago Pondweed Tubers which you sent me this Spring are doing fine. Also of interest to you may be the information that some years ago, the game warden planted an order of Wild Celery and Wild Rice, plus other materials, this Wild Celery and Wild Rice have formed some fine patches.

S. Bradley Krochmal
Portsmouth, N. H.
